SOCIAL MEDIA
Whether you are a #UFGrad or you are here to celebrate a #UFGrad, we invite you to join the commencement conversation on social media. Select tweets will be featured on the video boards prior to and after the ceremony.

PHOTOGRAPHS
The university requests that all commencement guests remain in their seats while taking photographs; no guests are permitted in the graduates’ seating area. Photographs of the graduates as they cross the stage are available through companies that have contracts with the university. Color photographs are available from University Photography, PO Box 2454, Tuscaloosa, AL 35403-2454, 205-391-9500.

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM
Additional copies of this commencement program are available while supplies last at the UF Bookstore for a $1 donation to the Machen Florida Opportunity Scholars program, which helps fund a UF education for low-income students who are first in their family to attend college. The commencement program can be ordered online with an additional charge for shipping and handling.

THIS IS NOT AN OFFICIAL GRADUATION LIST
While every effort is made to ensure accuracy in this commencement program, printing deadlines may result in omission of some names and use of names of persons not completing graduation requirements as intended. This printed program, therefore, should not be used to determine a student’s academic or degree status. The university’s official registry for conferral of degrees is the student’s permanent academic record as reflected on the student’s transcript, maintained by the Office of the University Registrar.

HONOR DESIGNATIONS
Honors designations in this program are incomplete, tentative, may not properly represent a student’s academic accomplishment and are subject to change. Final honors designation will be represented on the official diploma and on the transcript.
Greetings from the President

On behalf of the University of Florida and our administration, faculty and staff, I would like to extend my heartfelt congratulations to you, the Class of 2018, and to your family and friends.

UF’s commencement ceremonies celebrate your considerable accomplishment in completing a degree program at one of the world’s great universities. I share your pride and excitement, and I am confident that your degree – and the skills and experience you acquired while at this university – will serve you well in your careers and lives.

It has been a privilege to have you as a part of our community, and the university is better for your time here. I hope you remain connected to UF as active alumni and members of The Gator Nation.

Good luck, best wishes, and Go Gators!

W. Kent Fuchs

University of Florida President

Dr. W. Kent Fuchs

Dr. Kent Fuchs became the 12th President of the University of Florida in January 2015. Building on many years of excellence and focused leadership, the university has reached its goal of joining the nation’s top-ten public research universities.

Dr. Fuchs has set UF on a path to joining the top-five public research universities and becoming the nation’s number one university for comprehensive excellence. UF is working toward those goals through the creation of 500 new faculty positions, the addition of advanced and beautiful university facilities and an ongoing $3 billion fundraising campaign.

Previous to the UF presidency, Dr. Fuchs was provost of Cornell University. He has served in academic leadership positions and as a faculty member of electrical and computer engineering at Cornell, Purdue and the University of Illinois.

He is a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, and the Association for Computing Machinery, and has received numerous awards for teaching and research.

President Fuchs earned his doctorate in electrical and computer engineering from the University of Illinois, and a Master of Divinity from Trinity Evangelical Divinity School. He credits divinity school with teaching him communication and community-building skills, and to balance his innately analytic perspective with a deep appreciation for human relationships. He also holds a Bachelor of Science in Engineering from Duke University.

Dr. Fuchs is married to Linda Moskeland Fuchs, an art historian whose scholarship centers on the sculpture of sarcophagi created in the first centuries of Christian art-making. Mrs. Fuchs has two master’s degrees in art history, from the University of Chicago and Cornell, and a third in Biblical studies, from Trinity Evangelical Divinity School. The Fuchses have three sons, a daughter, and three grandchildren.

Born on an Oklahoma farm in 1954, President Fuchs spent much of his youth in Alaska before moving to Miami, where he graduated from Miami Killian Senior High School.

Robert A. Rizza, M.D.

Robert A. Rizza, M.D., is a consultant in the Department of Medicine, Division of Endocrinology, Diabetes, Metabolism, and Nutrition, and served as executive dean for research from 2005-2013 at Mayo Clinic. He holds the academic rank of professor of medicine.

Dr. Rizza completed his undergraduate training at Johns Hopkins University where he received the Bachelor of Arts degree in biophysics. He earned his medical degree in 1971 from the UF College of Medicine in Gainesville, completed his internship and residency at Johns Hopkins University, and served a clinical endocrinology and research fellowship at Mayo Clinic. Dr. Rizza joined the faculty of Mayo Clinic in 1980 and served as chair of the Division of Endocrinology, Diabetes, Metabolism, and Nutrition from 1992 to 2002, executive dean for research from 2005 to 2013, and principal investigator of the Mayo CTSA from 2006 to 2013.

Throughout his career, Dr. Rizza has received numerous awards and honors, including the Banting Award by the American Diabetes Association for outstanding achievement in diabetes research, the American Diabetes Association’s Outstanding Physician Clinician Award, as well as the American Association of Clinical Endocrinologist’s Distinguished Service to Endocrinology Award. Dr. Rizza is a past president of the Association of the Program Directors of Endocrinology, Diabetes and Metabolism, Association of Subspecialty Professors, and the American Diabetes Association.

Dr. Rizza has served on the editorial boards of numerous medical journals and as an associate editor of Diabetes, Diabetes Care, American Journal of Physiology, and Diabetic Medicine. Dr. Rizza is also active in Mayo educational activities and serves as a teacher and mentor.

Dr. Rizza’s clinical interests include diabetes, hypoglycemia, insulin resistance, obesity, and lipid disorders. His research focuses on the regulation of carbohydrate metabolism in humans and has been funded by the National Institute of Diabetes and Digestive and Kidney Diseases, National Center for Research Resources, American Diabetes Association, National Institute on Aging and the National Institutes of Health, among others.

Ambassador Carey Cavanaugh

Carey Cavanaugh is professor of diplomacy and conflict resolution and program director of the University of Kentucky’s Patterson School of Diplomacy and International Commerce. He returned to academia in 2006, following a 22-year diplomatic career with the U.S. Department of State focused on peace and humanitarian issues.

In addition to assignments in the state department, Pentagon, and on Capitol Hill, Ambassador Cavanaugh served in Berlin, Moscow, Tbilisi, Rome, and Bern. In Washington and Moscow from 1986-91, he worked on arms control, the 2+4 Talks on German unification, and defense cooperation. Afterward, he was awarded an APSA Congressional Fellowship, and in 1992, he led the team that established the American Embassy to the new Republic of Georgia. He returned to Washington to work first on assistance to the former USSR and then on conflicts in the Caucasus and Cyprus. In 1997, he defused a crisis that arose when Cyprus purchased a Russian S-300 missile system capable of striking Turkey. He next was deputy chief of mission in Switzerland during a major dispute over the handling by Swiss banks of Holocaust-era accounts.

Under former U.S. Presidents Clinton and Bush, Ambassador Cavanaugh spearheaded or helped advance peace efforts involving Armenia, Azerbaijan, Cyprus, Georgia, Greece, Moldova, Tajikistan and Turkey. In 2000, he was confirmed by the U.S. Senate as ambassador/special negotiator responsible for conflicts in Eurasia and U.S. co-chairman of the OSCE Minsk Group. This culminated in peace talks between the presidents of Armenia and Azerbaijan. His final government assignment was political advisor to Admiral Mike Mullen, U.S. Chief of Naval Operations (later chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff).

Since leaving government service, Ambassador Cavanaugh has undertaken special projects for the U.S. Department of State in Iraq, Afghanistan and Brazil. He remains active in peace efforts through his service as a trustee of London-based NGO Conciliation Resources, participation in an EU-funded track-two effort on Nagorno-Karabakh, and consulting with the state department, British Foreign and Commonwealth Office, and international NGOs. He is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and the International Institute for Strategic Studies.
Distinguished Alumna Awards

Judy Skinner

Judy Skinner received her B.A. and M.Ed. from the University of Florida. She has been awarded four Individual Fellowships in Choreography as well as several Artist Enhancement Grants by the State of Florida. She served as executive director for Dance Alive National Ballet for 18 years and as resident choreographer since 1979. She has been responsible for developing all arts education programming and writing, and administering all grants since 1976, generating more than $2.6 million in grant revenue. Ms. Skinner has created over 40 ballets for Dance Alive National Ballet.

Ms. Skinner taught K-grade 3 in the public schools for 18 years and served as an adjunct faculty member for the UF School of Theatre and Dance from 1981 to 2011. She created work for the Hippodrome as well as musicals and operas for the UF College of the Arts. Ms. Skinner taught master classes for the National Dance Theatre of Costa Rica and the Bulgarian National Ballet at the invitation of the ministers of culture of each country. Her works have been performed by the National Opera and Ballet of Bulgaria, Valdosta College, Santa Fe College (SFC), Jacksonville University, Baltimore Ballet, Northwest Florida Ballet, Douglas Anderson School of the Arts and Gulf Coast Ballet, among others.

Ms. Skinner has served on numerous state grants panels for the Division of Cultural Affairs, established the dance program at SFC and worked with the architects on the design of the dance room at SFC and the performance space at the Phillips Center for the Performing Arts on the UF campus. Ms. Skinner was awarded the Nancy Smith Award by the Florida Dance Association for Outstanding Contribution to the Art of Dance in Florida, the Lifetime Achievement in Arts award by the City of Gainesville, and the Women Who Make a Difference award by the Girl Scouts of America. She serves on a number of arts, education, and social service advisory boards.

Ms. Skinner is co-owner, along with her sister Kim Tuttle, of Pofahl Studios in Gainesville, the official school of Dance Alive National Ballet.

Kim Tuttle

Kim Tuttle, executive artistic director of Dance Alive National Ballet, took over the artistic reins in 1986, turning a regional company of quality into a highly recognized touring company and a designated State Touring Company of Florida for 40 years consecutively. It is her choreography that sets the style and artistic focus of the company. Through her vision, Dance Alive National Ballet has toured the Continental United States, Brazil, Russia, Bulgaria, Costa Rica and Cuba, establishing its reputation as a vital, energetic and artistically innovative ballet company.

Ms. Tuttle served on the staff of the Stuttgart Ballet and as ballet mistress for the Zurich Ballet.

She attended the University of Florida on full scholarship where she was staff pianist for the School of Music faculty and visiting artists. She recently received the prestigious UF Distinguished Alumna Award. She is a thriving and prolific choreographer, and has created over 100 ballets. She is a master at creating the full-length ballet.

Diversity is a hallmark of Ms. Tuttle’s ballets. She has collaborated with composers, musicians, sculptors, poets, photographers, actors, writers, technical theatre artists and visual artists, and created works with particular attention to including ethnic style and movement. Her works have been performed globally. In recognition of her work, she has received three choreographic fellowships and an honorable mention from the Florida Department of Cultural Affairs.

Ms. Tuttle has served on the State of Florida Dance Panel and was a recipient of the prestigious Nancy Smith Award given by the Florida Dance Association in 2000 for Outstanding Leadership and Excellence in Dance in Florida and the Lifetime Achievement in the Arts award given by the City of Gainesville. She received the Woman of Distinction award by Santa Fe College in 2010.

She is in demand as a choreographer, master teacher, artistic advisor and pianist, and travels throughout the country touring with Dance Alive National Ballet, setting and choreographing ballets, and staging her version of “The Nutcracker.” She lives in Gainesville, where she is co-owner and director of the nationally known and respected Pofahl Studios, the official school of Dance Alive National Ballet.
Gerardo M. Gonzalez

In 1972, he came to the University of Florida in Gainesville, where he would earn three degrees — a bachelor’s in psychology, master’s in counselor education and a Ph.D. in counseling and student personnel services.

A recognized expert on alcohol and drug education, Dr. Gonzalez is the founder of Boost Alcohol Consciousness Concerning the Health of University Students (BACCHUS), the world’s largest peer-based collegiate organization for the prevention of alcohol abuse. He has written and spoken widely on the role alcohol and other drugs play in impairing college student success.

In 2012, Hispanic Business named him one of the 50 most influential Hispanics in the United States.

A tireless advocate for quality education and health promotion, Dr. Gonzalez has been a spokesperson and proponent of creating a seamless system of education from pre-kindergarten through college to serve the needs of all students. He has actively promoted state and national policies to achieve this goal and prepare educators who can effectively work with diverse populations to impact leadership development and student learning throughout the world.

Juan C. Andrade

Juan C. Andrade is executive vice president of the Chubb Group, the world’s largest publicly traded property and casualty insurer, and the president of its Overseas General Insurance Division.

Mr. Andrade has executive operating responsibility for all of Chubb’s businesses across 54 countries in Europe, Asia, Latin America, the Middle East and Africa.

Mr. Andrade received a Bachelor of Science in Journalism degree with a minor in political science from UF in 1986. He is a Gator legacy. His father, two brothers, and his wife, Sandy, (whom he met at UF) are all UF graduates. He also received a Master of Arts in International Economics and Latin American Studies from the School of Advanced International Studies at The Johns Hopkins University.

Born in Colombia, Mr. Andrade moved to Miami with his family at age 10. After graduating from UF, he attended graduate school with an eye toward a career as a foreign correspondent. Instead, he was recruited into the U.S. Federal Government where he worked on foreign policy and national security issues at the Executive Office of the President, the U.S. Department of Defense, and the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration before joining the private sector.

Mr. Andrade is the recipient of the Secretary of Defense Medal for Meritorious Civilian Service, the second highest award granted to civilian employees by the U.S. Secretary of Defense. The medal was awarded for his efforts to combat the South American drug cartels.

Juan and his wife, Sandy, are also dedicated to social service activities. These include Catholic Charities and Teach for America, where their son John taught children with special needs in Harlem. A strong advocate for the armed services, Juan and Sandy have supported the Wounded Warrior Project, and Juan, an avid runner and triathlete, has run as part of the marathon team of the U.S. Marine Corps Scholarship Foundation to raise scholarship money for the children of wounded Marines.

Mr. Andrade is a founding member of the Dean’s Leadership Council at the UF College of Journalism and Communications.

Why do you think it’s great to be a Florida Gator?
It’s great to be a Florida Gator because of the mutual commitment and passion shared by members of the UF community. Gators are proud of where they come from, and they share this passion and enthusiasm with others. Gators are also committed to academic rigor, servant leadership, and positive advancements beyond their community. The ability to collaborate and learn from others creates a unique environment to facilitate growth. It’s great to be a Florida Gator because a shared journey at an exceptional institution unites individuals from various backgrounds.

Which scholarly activity at UF did you find to be most meaningful?
The process of completing my senior honors thesis has been very meaningful. My thesis aims to explore the importance of including the African immigrant experience in the field of health promotion. I have acquired additional skills related to research, scholarly literature, and evaluation. I have been given the opportunity to work earnestly in one of my areas of interest. Moreover, I am confident that my efforts will contribute to health promotion research and prompt consideration for the health needs of a unique population.

What are your future plans?
My long-term goal is to serve as a consultant for major healthcare systems, community clinics, and health service nonprofits. I would like to integrate public health principles in the delivery of care to ensure that high-quality services are accessible. Furthermore, I aspire to mentor youth groups and fulfill my God-given purpose.

Four-Year Scholar

Why do you think it’s great to be a Florida Gator?
You are constantly surrounded by individuals who push you to do better and be better. You can truly see the sense of community in every corner of UF.

Which scholarly activity at UF did you find to be most meaningful?
My work with undergraduate research has been the most challenging, yet rewarding experience at UF. Not only have I been able to see each stage of the research process in action (from concept formation to data analysis and dissemination), but I have also been fortunate enough to see my own project ideas come to life. I have been able to attend international research conferences through the support of my professors, which has provided me with invaluable connections for the future. Undergraduate research has allowed me to grow both academically and personally, and has helped me discover my lifelong passion.

What are your future plans?
The environment at the university has inspired me to continue graduate studies during the next chapter of my life and to contribute to our growing wealth of knowledge about the science of learning as a prospective researcher and professor. After graduation, I will spend the next two years working as a research assistant, and I then plan to pursue a doctoral degree in educational neuroscience. I want to help bridge the gap between the two fields and gain a deeper understanding about how to improve teaching through psychology and neuroscience methods.

Why do you think it’s great to be a Florida Gator?

Being surrounded by the passionate and diverse student body of UF was a very rewarding experience. There is a strong sense of community here, as students at UF are incredibly proud to be Gators. In addition, being a top-10 public institution, the University of Florida has access to a wide variety of resources, giving students access to opportunities they need to succeed. I am confident when I say that over the past four years, The Gator Nation has brought out the best in me. I am incredibly grateful for the tremendous opportunities I have been given at the University of Florida, which have allowed me to grow both personally and professionally, and has prepared me for my next journey in life.

Which scholarly activity at UF did you find to be most meaningful?

The scholarly activity that I found the most meaningful at UF was conducting research at the Center for Movement Disorders and Neurorestoration. This research center is at the forefront of Parkinson’s disease and deep brain stimulation, and has led groundbreaking investigations in the field. My involvement with the center began my freshman year when I started volunteering in the data analysis department, helping update a database of over 8,000 patients with movement disorders. I also had the opportunity to observe the real-life applications of the center’s research efforts by observing multiple deep brain stimulation surgical procedures. Since my sophomore year, I have been actively pursuing research at this center. After assisting with five publications, I was given the unique opportunity to conduct my own clinical research on impulse control disorders in Parkinson’s disease. Through this opportunity, I learned valuable skills and lessons that I later used in my summer internships at The Johns Hopkins University. Overall, this rewarding experience improved my research skills and intensified my passion and appreciation for clinical research.

What are your future plans?

I will continue my passion for medicine by attending medical school. I was extremely lucky to have been accepted to the Feinberg School of Medicine at Northwestern University.

Why do you think it’s great to be a Florida Gator?

Regardless of where you find yourself in the world, you are never a stranger as a Florida Gator. When you’re a member of a community without borders, you can always find someone else who shares the same commitment to intellectual growth, service to others, and inclusivity. More than this, the University of Florida has served as a home to countless Gators, differing in discipline, interests, and goals, yet who are connected to the same memory of some of their most formative years.

Which scholarly activity at UF did you find to be most meaningful?

The most rewarding scholarly activity the University of Florida has provided me with was the exchange program at L’Institut d’Études Politiques (Sciences Po), one of the world’s leading social science institutions. There, I was able to serve on the Sciences Po Refugee Help’s Asylum Aid Team, where I was able to bring my research on human rights compliance in the European migrant crisis to life. This experience of assisting in the collection and sharing of data with partner organizations such as the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees in Paris and communicating the right to due process, housing, and healthcare to asylum-seekers, served as a direct testament to the power of the law and its capacity to transform lives.

What are your future plans?

In the upcoming academic year, I will be attending Georgetown University Law Center to pursue a joint J.D./master’s in economic law, Global Governance Studies specialization, where I hope to concentrate on the intersection between international law and humanitarian advocacy. Ultimately, I hope to have a career dedicated to the international community, the rule of law, and human rights.

Why do you think it’s great to be a Florida Gator?
It’s great to be a Florida Gator because of the strong sense of community, the Gator pride, and the unique places to eat in the greater Gainesville area!

Which scholarly activity at UF did you find to be most meaningful?
I co-taught a Machen Florida Opportunity Scholars (MFOS) First-Year Florida course section as a First-Year Florida Peer Leader. MFOS students are first generation and low-income, and the program provides financial assistance to obtain a bachelor’s degree. Serving as a peer leader for this group was particularly challenging because I realized it is difficult to relate to someone’s hardships when you have not experienced them. However, I made it my mission that whenever I could not provide the assistance the students needed, I would work closely with them to find the resources they needed. I saw my impact come to life when my students applied for Freshman Leadership Council, joined student organizations, and made new friendships. Although this group of students came from statistically disadvantaged backgrounds, my experience as a peer leader showed me that being disadvantaged does not mean one cannot be successful. I helped my students combat the stigma of “people like them” not belonging in higher education and helped to break down barriers to create a welcoming environment for them. If I can help someone reach his or her full potential with small steps, then I have contributed to my ultimate goal of helping others increase their self-respect.

What are your future plans?
I will be attending Harvard School of Dental Medicine in August.

Why do you think it’s great to be a Florida Gator?
It’s great to be a Florida Gator because of the amazing community that comes along with the University of Florida. The University of Florida has been a home to me, but also a place that has allowed me to grow and pursue my many interests. This community is extremely supportive and, no matter where I am, I always feel surrounded by the strength of The Gator Nation. The people that make up The Gator Nation add to its strength, and I’m extremely grateful to be part of a community that values its members for their contributions to the greater good.

Which scholarly activity at UF did you find to be most meaningful?
Research has been the most meaningful to me because it has allowed me to pursue research questions that I formulated during my coursework. Research gave me the freedom to explore the topics I was interested in and further add to existing scholarship. Additionally, the research process is filled with a multitude of learning opportunities that I never expected, which taught me to think far outside of my own areas of study. Research has shown me the interconnected relationship between all fields of study, which lead to outstanding contributions to society when these connections are utilized.

What are your future plans?
I will be pursuing a career in human rights law with a focus on women’s issues.
Awards to Outstanding Student Scholars

The Selection Committee for Outstanding Scholars considers grade point average, curriculum, academic awards, research projects or honors theses. Four-year scholars must have started as freshmen at UF and have no more than minimal work at other institutions.

Why do you think it’s great to be a Florida Gator?
There are so many opportunities at the University of Florida that allow students to succeed and find their passions! The academic excellence, involved student body, and innovative atmosphere at the University of Florida make it absolutely great to be a Florida Gator. The university’s emphasis on research, service, and teaching are very important to me, and I am surrounded by so many wonderful and inspiring professors and fellow students. The University of Florida is filled with exceptional mentors and peers that have positively and immeasurably shaped the person I am today, and I am proud and honored to be a part of and contribute to the amazing community that is The Gator Nation!

Which scholarly activity at UF did you find to be most meaningful?
Participating in evolutionary genetics research has defined my undergraduate experience, and the capacity to contribute to our body of knowledge and participate in scientific inquiry have made my endeavors extremely fulfilling. I have worked in the Wayne Lab in the Department of Biology for the past 3.5 years studying host-parasite interactions by exploring how viruses and their hosts coevolve. I have also had the opportunity to work on exciting phage research during an internship at the Laboratory of Gene Technology in Leuven, Belgium. Because my personal experiences with research have been so rewarding, my most meaningful scholarly activities at UF have been serving on the Center for Undergraduate Research Board of Students’ Executive Board, and serving as an undergraduate research peer advisor for the past three years. My goals have been to help other students at the University of Florida get involved in undergraduate research, get the most out of their research experiences, and become outstanding scholars in their respective research pursuits.

What are your future plans?
I will be attending the University of Florida’s College of Medicine as part of the Class of 2022 and am excited to be a Gator for another four years! Beyond medical school, I aim to practice geriatric medicine and work toward eliminating healthcare disparities experienced by older populations.

Why do you think it’s great to be a Florida Gator?
Nothing can compare to standing in the stadium with thousands of fellow Gators, swaying side to side, proudly singing “We are the Boys.” Whether it’s football games or research symposiums, the University of Florida provides some amazing opportunities for students and alumni. While at UF, I not only received a stellar education but was also able to pursue incredible opportunities outside of class. I braved the Outback and studied abroad in Australia, and even conducted my own undergraduate research. The Gator Nation reaches out far beyond Gainesville, and everywhere I’ve travelled, people recognize my Gator gear and are excited to share a “Go Gators!” I’m looking forward to joining the influential network of Gator alumni all across the country and world, and supporting future generations of proud Gators.

Which scholarly activity at UF did you find to be most meaningful?
From the first moment I walked into my room in Hume during my freshman year, I realized that the UF Honors Program would play a significant role in my academic career. Through the program I made some incredible friends and was exposed to numerous scholastic opportunities. Sketchbook Development, Forensic Science, and XKCD were some of the unique and interdisciplinary classes I was able to take advantage of through the Honors Program. With the help of my principal investigator and my thesis advisor, I was able to complete a senior honors thesis in Avian Cognition (I taught parrots English for science!). Honors also helped me get involved in community service, and I enthusiastically participated in Honors Without Borders. UF’s Honors Program helped me combine my passions for research, outreach, and academia.

What are your future plans?
Since childhood, I have had a passion for birds and reptiles, and I have continued to pursue this passion while here at UF. As a zoology major with a minor in wildlife ecology and conservation, I plan on dedicating my life to animal care. I will be attending veterinary school next year and look forward to the challenges and opportunities that will come with the field.
Awards to Outstanding Student Scholars

The Selection Committee for Outstanding Scholars considers grade point average, curriculum, academic awards, research projects or honors theses. Two-year scholars must have earned an Associate of Arts degree at a Florida state college and have completed the remainder of their degree at UF.

Why do you think it’s great to be a Florida Gator?
It’s great to be a Florida Gator because The Gator Nation spreads so much farther than Gainesville. Even as a UF online student residing in Chicago, I still feel very connected to the Gator community. It is without fail that when I have my Gator gear on and am walking down the Chicago lakefront, I’ll hear at least one person say “Go Gators” in passing. Not only do I appreciate the community that UF has created for students far and wide, but also the academic endeavors that I’ve been able to undertake at UF. I’m so grateful to be a part of the UF community and am proud to say that I’m a Gator!

Which scholarly activity at UF did you find to be most meaningful?
Out of all the scholarly activities that I was privileged to participate in at UF, the most meaningful was my honors thesis — “Effective Advertising Strategies for Online Non-Degree Single Course College Programs.” It allowed me to incorporate the knowledge I gained from my two-year marketing research internship at UF Flexible Learning with my academic research. I’m hopeful that my work will help continue to grow The Gator Nation!

What are your future plans?
I’m excited to join Aon Consulting, Inc., a subsidiary of Aon Corp. this summer. I look forward to starting my career in business and applying the skills that I’ve learned at the University of Florida to my work. I will be joining the UF Alumni Association to stay connected with The Gator Nation throughout my career.

Outstanding Leader

Why do you think it’s great to be a Florida Gator?
It is great to be a Florida Gator because of the legacy and tradition behind being a part of the only preeminent university in the state of Florida. With the breadth of The Gator Nation being so wide and diverse, and with Gators living in every continent of the world, it is easy for a graduate to always be a Gator, no matter when they graduated. The orange and blue screams passion and dedication, whether in academics, athletics, or scholarship. With an incredibly diverse student body, being a Florida Gator means growing and leading with others, no matter what their background is, for the Gator Good. The Gator Nation focuses on creating worldwide change in a vast array of fields, and being a part of The Gator Nation is nothing short of a blessing.

Which leadership experience at UF did you find to be most meaningful?
During my time at the University of Florida, I was able to serve others in a variety of ways through different organizations. The most meaningful leadership experience I’ve had was being able to serve as the student body vice president. Though I was elected to serve the student body through programming on behalf of Student Government, I’ve been able to advocate on behalf of students on an incredible platform. At both the state and federal level, I’ve been able to help push for higher education reform with issues facing students on a daily basis. During my term, I’ve been able to serve as a leader to a team of 22 assistant directors and put forth programming to create a more inclusive environment at UF.

What are your future plans?
I plan to become a double Gator in hopes of pursuing a Masters of Science in Real Estate degree. Eventually, I would like to attend law school, practice law and continue to advocate on behalf of others and represent The Gator Nation well. The University of Florida has given me the tools and confidence to attack any problem on a large scale, which makes me excited to approach the future as a UF alumnus.

Outstanding Leader

Why do you think it’s great to be a Florida Gator?
It is great to be a Florida Gator because of the community the University of Florida provides. Since the beginning of my college career, I would never have guessed I would be where I am today. Every step of the way, a fellow Gator, whether a current student or alum, has helped challenge me and push me to be better. I am forever indebted to UF for the lasting friendships, mentors, and memories made during my time here.

Which leadership experience at UF did you find to be most meaningful?
The most meaningful leadership experience I had at the University of Florida was being tapped into Florida Blue Key, the oldest and most prestigious leadership honorary at the university. Serving as the vice president of membership was a privilege and an honor.

What are your future plans?
I will begin working for Kellogg’s in June as a sales representative in the Tampa area.

Why do you think it's great to be a Florida Gator?
What I love most about the University of Florida is the expansive network of support it offers to every Gator — past, present, and future. I did not grow up a Gator. With two older siblings who both graduated from Florida State University, one of my proudest accomplishments was choosing to stare the unknown in the face and attend the University of Florida, beginning both a cherished undergraduate experience and an entertaining family rivalry.

No matter where I end up in life, I will feel the undying support of The Gator Nation, and I will forever be proud to be a Florida Gator.

Which leadership experience at UF did you find to be most meaningful?
During my time as a Florida Cicerone, I have learned the most valuable lesson of my college career: Successful leadership stems not from authority, but from influence. As president of the Florida Cicerones, my biggest role was serving as a supporter, encourager, and advocate for the students and people I represented. I saw it as my responsibility to listen to and empower their voices, rather than my own.

Throughout my final two years at the university, my definition of what it means to be a leader shifted to serving an institution by first serving the people within it. This ability to empower and invest in my peers, as well as past and future Gators, has provided me with a sense of purpose unlike any other. And for that, I will forever be grateful to the Florida Cicerones.

What are your future plans?
Film is a vehicle through which we can inspire positive change across multiple worldly disciplines. My goal is to use my education in film and the interdisciplinary skills I have acquired to promote a more equitable world for communities that currently lack the resources needed to build a sustainable life. We live in a time when new digital media tools enable people of all backgrounds to share their personal narratives with a global audience. Looking to the future, I hope to use film as an educational tool to bridge gaps between communities, advocate for social justice, and strengthen our society’s understanding of the world as we know it.

Why do you think it’s great to be a Florida Gator?
A Florida Gator symbolizes strength, bravery, and honor. Not only can an alligator bite at a force of 300 pounds per square inch, but gators are known to be top predators and warriors in the swamp. I define myself as a Florida Gator because of the strength and courage I have developed while attending this university. UF has given me numerous opportunities to challenge myself, get uncomfortable, and even fail. I believe that these very qualities of strength, bravery, and honor have made every Florida Gator great! As a UF Gator, I feel proud to have been a part of such a strong and honorable institution.

Which leadership experience at UF did you find to be most meaningful?
The leadership experience I found to be the most meaningful at UF was being one of only three females to compete with the UF Army ROTC Ranger Challenge Team. Ranger Challenge is a team of cadets that competes against other schools in physical fitness drills, field exercises, marksmanship, and written exams. Being able to train alongside some of the most elite male and female athletes in our Battalion was an incredibly powerful and humbling experience, and I was held to a standard that was higher than I could have ever imagined for myself. I was pushed to my limits both physically and mentally. Even though I failed at times, those failures ultimately helped me to become a stronger person. I hope that my strength and determination have inspired other students, especially women, to always sign up for a challenge.

What are your future plans?
On May 4, 2018, I will be commissioning as a second lieutenant in the Army Nurse Corps. This summer, I will be attending Basic Officers Leader Course (BOLC) in San Antonio, Texas for nine weeks. This training will help me develop my skills as an Army officer and nurse. After BOLC, I will be sent to my first duty station to pursue a career as an operating room nurse within the Army.

What Makes a University Great?
Some interesting facts about the University of Florida

Educational Excellence

UF is consistently ranked among the nation’s top universities: No. 9 in U.S. News & World Report “Top Public Universities” (2018); No. 12 in the Wall Street Journal/Times Higher Education list of Best Public Colleges (2017); No. 3 on the Forbes’ list of Best Value Public Universities (2017); No. 1 on Value Colleges’ list of Top 50 Best Value Colleges (2016); and No. 1 on the Times Higher Education list of best public universities for employers to find new hires.

Faculty

- UF has nearly 5,000 faculty members with distinguished records in teaching, research and service, including 36 Eminent Scholar chairs and 45 faculty elections to the National Academy of Sciences, Engineering, the National Academy of Medicine or the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.
- Awards include two Pulitzer Prizes, NASA’s top award for research, and the Smithsonian Institution’s conservation award.

Students

- Ninety-seven percent of incoming freshmen score above the national average (1500/21) on standardized exams. Students admitted for the fall 2018 freshman class had an average 4.45 GPA and an average SAT score of 1370.
- The freshman retention rate of 96 percent is among the highest in the country.
- UF awards more professional degrees to African American, Hispanic and other minority students than any other public university in the Association of American Universities (2014-15).
- Sixty-seven percent of UF full-time freshmen graduate in four years (2011-12 cohort), and 87 percent of UF freshmen graduate within six years (2009-10 cohort).
- Fifty-seven percent of UF graduates leave the university with no student-loan debt. For the remaining students, their average indebtedness is about $21,603, as compared with the national average of more than $30,000 (2015-16).
Chain of Office

This custom-made ornament is worn with the president’s regalia, symbolizing the authority and responsibilities of the office. The chain is engraved with the names and service years of the university presidents. The medallion’s centerpiece is a 1.3-carat diamond.

Academic Mace

Dating back to the Middle Ages, the mace symbolizes strength and authority. The UF ceremonial mace was created for the university’s sesquicentennial celebration in 2003. The 70-inch staff features an alligator sitting atop a globe. The four pillars supporting the globe represent the four original colleges: Agriculture, Engineering, Law, and Liberal Arts. The staff is carved from cherry wood. The university’s chief marshal, who leads all academic processions, carries the mace.

Caps and Gowns, An Explanation

The academic regalia worn by graduating students and faculty at today’s commencement ceremonies evolved from a style of dress worn by members of guilds and religious orders in medieval times. The academic gown is worn by individuals who have earned a degree in higher education. In addition, hoods are worn by graduate degree candidates, but not by undergraduate degree candidates.

At the University of Florida, the lining of the hood has a blue chevron on an orange background to represent the university colors. University faculty members who hold degrees from another college or university wear the colors of their alma mater.

The velvet edging on the academic hood is the color that represents the particular degree held by the wearer. Agricultural and Life Sciences and Forest Resources and Conservation share maize edging; Design, Construction and Planning and Building Construction are blue violet; Audiology degrees have colonial blue edging; Business Administration and Accounting are drab; Dentistry is lilac; Education is light blue; Engineering degrees are represented by orange edging; Fine Arts degrees have brown edging; Health and Human Performance is sage green; Journalism and Communications is garnet; Law is purple; Liberal Arts is white and Liberal Sciences is gold yellow; Medicine is green; Music is pink; Natural Resources and Environment is antique gold; Nursing is apricot; Doctor of Pharmacy is olive; Philosophy is royal blue; Public Health degrees have salmon pink edging; Rehabilitation Counseling degrees have Nile green edging; and Veterinary Medicine is gray.

Distinctions among sleeves indicate the type of degree held by the wearer. A long, pointed sleeve indicates a bachelor’s degree, while a long, closed sleeve with a slit near the upper part of the arm designates a master’s degree. A round, open sleeve identifies a doctoral degree.

The doctoral regalia also has velvet running on the rest of the gown, including cross bars on the sleeve. Colored tassels on the degree candidates’ caps indicate a candidate’s school or college.
Alma Mater

Florida, our Alma Mater
Thy glorious name we praise
All thy loyal sons and daughters
A joyous song shall raise.
Where palm and pine are blowing,
Where southern seas are flowing,
Shine forth thy noble Gothic walls,
Thy lovely vine-clad halls.
Neath the Orange and Blue victorious
Our love shall never fail.
There’s no other name so glorious—
All hail, Florida, Hail!

Milton Yeats
